

READERS' CORNER CONT'D.

NEW PUBLICATIONS BY ANNE MILANO APPEL

Books

Paolo Maurensig, Theory of Shadows. Farrar, Straus & Giroux, January 2018.

Riccardo Bruni, The Night of the Moths. Amazon-Crossing, December 2017.

Claudio Magris, Blameless. Yale University Press, April 2017.

Work in journals

Luce D'Eramo, "Life as a Couple," a short story. Chicago Review, Issue 60:04/61:01, 2017.

Excerpt from Claudio Magris, Blameless (Yale University Press, April 2017), Granta 140: "State of Mind: The Online Edition Fiction," September 14, 2017. <https://granta.com/blameless/>

Daniele Del Giudice, "Shipwreck with Painting," a short story. The Massachusetts Review, Spring 2017.

Andrea Canobbio, "No Cure," a memoir. The Threepenny Review, Spring 2017.

Anne Milano Appel has translated works by Claudio Magris, Paolo Maurensig, Primo Levi, Paolo Giordano, Roberto Saviano, and many others. Her awards include the Italian Prose in Translation Award (2015) and the John Florio Prize for Italian Translation (2013).